MAILS FROM ENGLAND.

ARRIVAL OF R.M.S. ARNO.

GENERAL EUROPEAN WAR.

ALLIANCE of AUSTRIA, RUSSIA, and TURKEY.

PRUSSIA INVADES THE DUCHIES.

The Arno left Rio de Janeyro on the morning of the 7th inst., at 8 a.m., experienced rough weather, and arrived at Montevideo on the evening of the 11th inst., left Montevideo at 4 p.m., of the 12th, and arrived at B. Ayres at daylight the next morning.

The Arno brings £50,000 on account of the Argentine Loan, to be landed at Buenos Ayres, and also £55,000, sent by Baron de Maua, and landed at Montevideo, to Messrs. Maua's Bank.

The Liverpool steamer Kepler was laying in Rio de Janeiro, discharging cargo, having broken her screw in her outward trip. She has to go into dock for repairs, prior to proceeding to the River Plate.

The following is the list of passengers:—

The London papers of June 9th bring us very disastrous news: Napoleon's conference has proved a failure, and war is imminent and inevitable; the monetary crisis has dragged down a number of other financial establishments, including the Agra Bank with liabilities estimated at 15 millions sterling.

On May 24th Her Majesty issued letters-patent to Prince Alfred and his heirs male, as peer of the realm, with the titles Marquis of Ulster, Viscount Kent, and Duke of Edinburgh. His Royal Highness took the oaths and his seat in the House of Lords, and has also been presented with the freedom of the city of London. The marriage of Princess Mary of Cambridge was shortly to take place with Prince Feck, and Parliament has voted her £2,000 a year. Mr. Gladstone has had another signal triumph on the Reform question and the Cabinet gains strength in view of the menacing aspect of continental affairs. The Divorce court is at present occupied with a very extraordinary suit by one Mrs. Ryves who brings forward strong evidence to establish her position as a member of the Royal Family, her mother having been granddaughter of Stanislaus, last King of Poland, and it seems, married privately to the Duke of Cumberland, brother of King George III. Sporting circles are much afflicted at the demise of Lord Chesterfield, on the last day of Ascot Races.

Napoleon declares that France will remain a passive spectator in the impending war, unless the dignity or interest of the nation demand otherwise. The 'Moniteur' contradicts the rumor of a secret treaty between France, Prussia and Italy, whereby the island of Sardinia and the Rhine Provinces would be annexed to the French Empire, in return for Napoleon's co operation. Rumors of a loan are also current; another preparation for war. The Emperor blames Austria for the failure of the Conference: Austria expressed surprise that the Pope was not invited to take part in it.

The invasion of Holstein by a Prussian army, 25,000 strong, under Gen. Manteuffel, was received at Vienna as tantamount to a declaration of war, and the North Austrian 'corps d'armée' was threatening to invade Silesia and march towards Hamburg. Hostilities were expected to commence by June 10. As soon as the Prussians occupied Kiel and Altona, the Austrian embassy at Berlin was recalled to Vienna. It seems certain that Russia and Turkey have formed an alliance with Austria, and the Turkish fleet guards the Adriatic from Italian cruisers. The war is assuming such gigantic proportions that the whole continent will be involved, and some four million of men arrayed in arms.

The Garibaldi fever increases in Italy nearly 100,000 volunteers being already enrolled. Bodies of troops are being concentrated on the Austrian frontier. A Bourbon conspiracy to restore the King of Naples was discovered in Paris, but the French Government caused photographs of the leaders to be transmitted to Naples to guard against their attempting a landing. The Pope had a grand ceremonial at the Lateran Church, and afterwards a long interview at the Vatican with Lord Clarence Paget.

In Spain the press is occupied with the bombardment of Callao, which it considers a very heroic action. Spain and Portugal will unite for mutual defence in case of a general war.

The Grand-dukes Alexander and Vladimir of Russia are about to visit the King of Denmark at Copenhagen.

Cabinet-changes have occurred in Holland, Turkey and some minor States.

LATEST FROM ENGLAND.

(Morning Star, June 9th.)

In the House of Lords yesterday, at four o'clock, the Lord Chancellor took his seat on the woolsack. The Duke of Edinburgh was introduced by the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Cambridge, and took the oaths and subscribed the roll. Their Royal Highnesses were in their robes of State. A few peers and the following official personages were present at the ceremony:—Lord Edward Howard, Deputy Earl Marshall; Lord Colville, representing the Lord Great Chamberlain; Sir William Young, Garter King at Arms; Sir Augustus Clifford, Usher of the Black Rod; and Colonel Clifford, Yeoman Usher of the Black Rod. Soon after the termination of the ceremonial, the Duke of Edinburgh accompanied by the Prince of Wales and the Duke of Cambridge, retired.

In the House of Commons a most successful effort was made to prevent the Reform Bill from coming on. A number of motions on a variety of subjects had been put upon the paper by Tory members, and though some of them have been debated before, they were gone into with as much zest as if they were wholly new. The result was, that the Reform Bills could not be brought on until so late an hour as to make progress impossible.

The Italians in London are not disposed to look idly on while their countrymen at home make a supreme effort to drive the Austrians out of Venetia. Yesterday afternoon they held a meeting at the London Tavern. It was resolved that at least £120 a month should be sent out during the continuance of the war. Every gentleman present pledged himself to subscribe largely.

Yesterday a meeting of the creditors of Messrs. Peto, Betts, and Co. was held at the London Tavern. A statement of accounts was submitted to the meeting by Mr. Coleman. This document was of a most satisfactory character, and the utmost confidence was expressed in the firm. Formal expression was given to this feeling in the resolutions, by which it was determined that the concern should be liquidated by Messrs. Peto and Betts themselves.

Fenianism is not wholly extinguished it seems. In Cincinnatti it has taken rather a demonstrative form. An army of 400 men had set out from Cleveland in that State with colours flying to invade Canada. Probably money has been given rather slowly in that district recently, and this exhibition has been got up to raise the wind. Stephens is said to be receiving large sums of money.

Count Bismark has written to the Ministers of Prussia at the various Courts a circular, which if it be not a declaration of war against Austria, is the next thing to it. The circular is a masterly production. Its object is to fasten upon Austria the responsibility of war which is now inevitable. The Count charges Austria with a breach of the Gastein Convention in referring the question of the Duchies to the Federal Diet, and then with having exercised a power only to be exercised under the Gastein Convention in summoning the Holstein Estates. This is a proceeding which Prussia cannot endure, and she will take measures to prevent it. The Count goes on to say that the conduct of Austria throughout has shown that she was determined to provoke war. An attempt had been made by the King of Prussia to bring about peace by a proposal that the questions of the Duchies and Federal reform should be treated together. The attempt had failed, and the sayings and doings of Austria alike in Venetia and Germany shewed a craving for war. War, says the Count, is probably desired by Austria, partly in the hope of successes in the field, partly as a means of settling domestic difficulties, partly in the hope of levying contributions on Prussian territory, and partly as a means to an honourable bankruptcy. This is a very severe and is withal rather strange. Prussia having goaded Austria on to the brink of war contrives to put her at the last moment into the wrong. The Count's circular concludes by asking in effect, "Now, who is the real lover of peace? Now, who is it that has been conspiring for war? Now, who is it that rejects all modes of pacification? The Powers will see we are not the sinners? Well, Count Bismark is very clever, but he will hardly succeed in convincing Englishmen that he has been right throughout.

The Emperor of Austria has told the deputations from Pesth and Buda which have waited upon him that at the present serious moment he finds great comfort and support in the earnest devotion of his people. The entry of the Prussian troops into Holstein is regarded at Vienna as equivalent to an act of war; but General Von Gablenz, who is at the head of only 5,000 trops, has received instructions to avoid a collision with the Prussian commander. General Manteuffel has issued an address to the inhabitants of Schleswig, in which he states that he has been ordered to send troops to Holstein to maintain the "sovereign rights" of his Royal master. The troops of the two Powers exchange civilities one with the other, but obviously they may at any moment be called upon to exchange bullets.

Meantime it is said that Russia has really concluded a treaty of alliance with Austria, and that Turkey is satisfied with that arrangement. The 'Presse,' which gives the information, adds that when war breaks out, Russian and Turkish troops will jointly occupy the Principalities, and take care that Austria is not molested in the rear. The 'Constitutionnel' has grave assurances that France will hold aloof from the contest unless her national honour and interests should require her interference. That opens the door to a good many excuses for war; and, indeed, everybody in France believes that should Italy find herself in the least pressed by Austria, the Emperor will cast his sword into the scale against the Hapsburgs.

If we may credit a telegram from Paris there has been fighting between the Turks and the Roumanians. The Turkish army, it is said, had crossed the Danube, and the Prince of Hohenzollern has put himself at the head of reinforcements sent to the front.

The report of the London and Brazilian Bank for the half-year ended the 31st of December last states the available balance at £30,916, and notifies an interim dividend of £1.10s. per share on the original shares of £100, and of 5s. on the new shares of £20, or nearly at the rate of 9 per cent. This will absorb £25,000, leaving £5,916, to be carried forward. The commencement of the amalgamation with the bank of Baron de Mauá is deferred till the 1st of January next, owing to delays in obtaining the requisite decrees.

It is stated that the negotiations of the Manchester directors of the Consolidated Bank to revive the business in that city have not proved successful.

The Master of the Rolls has to-day appointed Mr. W. H. Holyland, of the firm of Price, Holyland, and Waterhouse, official liquidator of the Commercial Bank Corporation of India and the East.

The following on the Liverpool money-market is from the 'Liverpool Albion':—

"It is very satisfactory that the week has passed over without any serious local disasters. A young cotton broker has gone off to the Continent after fraudulently victimizing one of the banks to a small extent. An eminent cotton firm was in temporary difficulties owing to speculations of great magnitude carried on by one of the partners; but the stability of the other partner is, if at all, only slightly affected, and their business proceeds as usual. There is no truth in the statement published by a contemporary that a firm largely engaged in the East Indian and American trade had suspended. Messrs. Boult, English, and Brandon have arranged to pay 9s. in the pound, in five instalments, extending over a period of 18 months.

LATEST TELEGRAMS.

Vienna, June 7.

The Vienna journals consider that the Conference having failed, the outbreak of hostilities is imminent.

The Duke de Grammont has had a conference with Count Mensdorff, and also an audience of the Emperor.

According to the 'Wanderer,' the French reply to the Austrian note places the blame of the failure of the Congress upon Austria.

A Council of Ministers was held to-day under the presidency of the Emperor.

The Russian Cabinet courier who has arrived in this city is stated to be the bearer of an autograph letter of the Czar to the Emperor of Austria.

It is stated that an agreement has been concluded between Austria and Turkey, by which the latter Power undertakes to defend the Austrian coast of the Adriatic against any hostile invasion.

According to intelligence received here the Porte intends to station a flotilla of war vessels upon the Dalmatian coast, in order to prevent any attempt being made to disembark Italian volunteers.

Vienna, June 8.

The 'Presse' announces that Federal execution is imminent against Prussia.

The semi-official 'Abendpost' says the entry of the Prussians into Holstein is a striking and unexampled violation of an existing treaty.

Various unauthenticated rumours have been circulated here to-day. It was asserted that General Benedek has received formal orders to enter Silesia, and that advanced detachments from the camp at Olmutz have commenced moving towards Königgritz.

It was also rumoured that Count Karolyi had protested at Berlin against the military measures taken by Prussia in Holstein, and that his departure from Berlin is imminent.

According to other reports, riotous assemblages of a serious character took place in Berlin last night. No confirmation of these rumours has arrived from any quarter.

Bucharest, June 8.

Intelligence received here states that the Russian Government has given a favourable reception to the Moldo-Wallachian deputation.

Bucharest, June 8 (Evening.)

The rumours that the Turks have entered the Danubian Principalities are unfounded. Energetic measures are however being taken in all quarters for the defence of the Principalities.

The Prince of Hohenzollern will to morrow assume the command of 30,000 men, who are entrenched in a strong position at Cotroceny.

Altona, June 8 (Evening.)

It is expected that the Austrian Kalik brigade will leave Altona after the sitting of the Holstein Estates, to be held on the 11th inst., has taken place. The troops will return to Austria through Hanover.

The Duke of Augustemburg has relinquished his intention of making a prolonged stay in Hamburg.

Kiel, June 8.

General von Mauteuffel has summoned General von Gablenz to re-establish the state of common administration in the Duchies.

The Government archives and treasury are said to have been removed by the Austrians to Altona.

Paris, June 7.

That war is imminent can no longer be doubted. We are in hourly expectation that the telegraph will bring to us the echo of the first cannon-shot. The question which pre-occupies us is whether France will enter the lists. Though Napoleon III. will at first observe a strict neutrality, he has taken every possible precautionary measure so as to come to the rescue of Italy on the first plausible opportunity. The 'Presse' of this evening is responsible for the following news:—A telegraphic despatch of Frankfort, dated the 6th inst., announces that the Austro-Russian alliance may be considered as 'un fait accompli.' Turkey has rallied to this alliance; Russian and Turkish troops will occupy the Principalities during the war, with the adhesion of Austria. This latter Power is stated to have entered into a solemn engagement not to admit of any territorial compensation taken from the provinces under the rule of the Sultan. The Count de Goltz had an audience to-day at two o'clock of the Emperor, on which occasion he transmitted the thanks of the Prussian King for the efforts Napoleon III. has made to maintain peace.

The 'France' announces that the Prussian troops have entered this day into Holstein and marched on Itzehoe, to take possession of that town, where the Holstein Diet was to have met. The Prince of Augustenburg had started suddenly for Hamburg.

Paris, June 8.

La 'France' of this evening says:—The last effort for conciliation has been made at Vienna by the Duke de Grammont. Count Mensdorff, however, is stated to have positively maintained the grounds of the Austrian reply to the invitation to the Conference.

The despatches of the Duke de Grammont, giving an account of the result of his efforts, are expected to reach Paris to-morrow.

The discussion upon the budget will commence in the Corps Législatif on Monday next.

Prince Napoleon had a long conference with the Emperor to-day.

The 10th of June is the time spoken of here as the date on which hostilities are likely to break out. This rumour is confirmed by a correspondent of the 'France', who states that on that day Saxony will be entirely surrounded by a 'cordon' of Prussian troops, and that on the same day King William will leave Berlin to repair to the headquarters of the Prussian army. The 'France' thinks that hostilities will begin in the Duchies, 'and thus' writes this semi-official paper, "will be realised Lord Palmerston's words, that the question of the Duchies will be a match which will iguite the whole of Europe."

The letter of Prince Czartorysky, bearing on the formation of a Polish legion in Italy and in Gallicia, which letter takes the part of Austria against Italy, has produced the worst impression in Paris.

Florence, June 8.

A Royal decree has been issued, dated yesterday, calling out for military service the second categories of the classes of 1842, 1843, and 1845.

Ragusa, June 8.

The Turkish admiral has arrived on the coast of Albania with two vessels of the line and four other men-of-war.

Madrid, June 7.

Spain and Portugal have agreed to act in common for the defence of their neutrality in the event of an European war.

Rendsburg, June 7th.

On the departure of the Austrian troops, the Prussian commander addressed them in a speech of a very cordial character.

A company of Prussian marines and a military band, as well as all the Prussian officers, were present at the departure of the Austrian staff and the members of the Holstein Government.

The Austrian national hymn was played and the parting was most friendly.

Dublin, June 5.

The Government have received information that the rinderpest has broken out at Drumra, near Lisburn, and within half a mile of the late infected locality. Seven cases have been reported since Saturday, in which, Dr. Mapother says, there vere present all the symptoms of the plague.

Dr. Cullen left Kingstown on Saturday morning on his way to Rome, where he has been summoned, in order to be invested with the insignia of his new dignity as the first Irish Cardinal. The 'Freeman's Journal' states that: "To mark their sense of the honour conferred not only upon the diocese of Dublin, but upon the whole Irish Church, it is, we understand, the intention of his clergy to present Cardinal Cullen with a testimonial suitable to his exalted rank on his return from the Eternal City."

Dublin, June 8.

A fearful fire is now raging in Westmoreland street, which threatens several houses. It is stated that five persons have been burned to death.

OUR LONDON CORRESPONDENT.

NOTES FROM THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

London, June 8, 1866.

To the Editors of the 'Standard.'

Gentlemen,

On 'Change to-day the demand for money has not been very active, and bills have been done at 9¼ ⅜. But we are still in this terrible panic, and war, the only cure at present, will not break out to put an end to it.

Three weeks ago, on all the Continental Bourses the failure of Agra and Masterman was talked of, and though nothing was to be feared, they have been literally talked to death by the 'bears,' and three days ago had to stop payment, through the heavy pull on their Indian branches, and not one failure has caused such damage, sad homes, nor bleeding hearts as this one, through the immense number of widows, orphans, and private people of comparatively small means and saved up incomes being interested in this concern; and it is feared it will prove like 'Overend Gurney;' though all say everything is to be paid, where is it to come from? Messrs. O. G. and Co. issued a circular on the 6th, and this shows an enormous deficit. Peto, Betts, will not at all be effected, and did very right in stopping payment; as money was not wanting. Mr. Brassey, to whom all honor is due, offered alone to help them with £200,000, and other parties in the same branch some £300,000, in all half a million, which was declined. There are rumors of other very good firms also going to stop, but this is such a dangerous topic, that you do not know on what ground you tread, and I prefer not giving them until it is a 'fait accompli.'

Prussia has occupied Holstein, and Austria is evacuating; but why they do not commence hitting at each other no one can imagine. It is yet doubtful if it comes to a war, though all desire and wish Prussia, the peace disturber, to get a whipping.

In Prussia there is great difficulty to mobilise the militia, whilst in Austria even the fair sex is, so to say, inspired and ready, if it were necessary, to fight. Napoleon, 'whose heart is on the Rhine,' is looking quietly on, and great speculations are on foot to sell somebody something for the war, and if some iron-clads were to be had, they would find a ready market. The only disposable one is the large one the Danes had in the Baltic, but they will only sell her on condition that she is not to be for Prussia.

Coming to pleasanter things. I had the pleasure to attend the Paris Derby, where the Duke of Beaufort's Ceylon carried off the prize. The Duke was highly complimented by the Emperor, who was looking rather seedy. But to make up for this, Gladiator carried off the Ascot Cup. Both races had tolerable weather, and were as usual very well attended.

I suppose you have seen the Triple Alliance Treaty published at Paris, in three languages, and taken from the 'Blue-book,' where all of the Treaty was published, even the part not known in Buenos Ay[illegible] in the shape of an appendix. [illegible] I may say, not agreeable to certain [illegible] here in Europe.

How little it seems our South Amer[illegible]can Governments care for the opinion that is held of them here, though it would be their interest the contrary, or for the 'convenances de societé,' if I were to send you some visiting cards that make the rounds in London and on the Continent, with the enormous coat of arms of the Confederation Argentine over them; but I suppose every one has their hobby, and so let them straddle it.

The amalgamation of the Maua and London and Brazilian Bank is officially postponed for the 1st of January, 1867.

The River Plate Bank shares are at a premium, and I hope will remain so as a set-off to the rest.

This evening it was rumored that the Queen's messenger from Constantinople had been robbed of the despatches, relating probably to the rotten Roumania or Danubian Principalities affair. I do not know how true this may be.

For next week great preparations are going on for the marriage of the Princess Mary, as 'Punch' says, making her a Royal 'Polly-teck-nic.'

I remain, Gentlemen,

Yours truly,

STERLING.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The arrival of the Arno yesterday with the English mails flooded us with news, we regret to say of a rather gloomy character. War seems inevitable in Europe, and it is stated in some of the English papers that hostilities might be expected to commence in or about the middle of June. The commercial news is of an equally unfavorable character. The Agra Bank in Manchester, reputed to be one of the safest and best in England, has failed for the enormous amount of 15 millions sterling; this bank being connected with some River Plate houses it has brought this fearful crisis home to us, but we are happy to say that the houses here were all duly secured at home.

The packet has brought £50,000 sterling for the Argentine Government and £55,000 for the Mauá Bank. We notice amongst the list of passengers Mr. Savory, one of the chief owners of the steamer Oriental, Lord Beaumont, and Sr. Lavalle, secretary to the Argentine legation in Washington.

Another lamentable accident has happened in this port owing to the scandalous negligence of the Port authorities; the splendid new steamer Rio Parana has run on the wreck of the Pampero, and knocked a hole in her bottom, the water has filled one of her compartments and she was taken up to the Tigre to be repaired. We have so repeatedly called the attention to the scandalous conduct of the Captain of the Port, allowing the channe to be filled up with wrecks, that we suppose the case is helpless, and unless the merchants and steamboat owners take the matter in hand and have these wrecks blown up there is no hope of relief. Messrs. Matti and Co. ought to send the bill for repairs to the Government house, and bring an action in the Federal Court against the Captain of the Port.

We regret to announce the stoppage of the steamer Kepler in Rio, where she has discharged her cargo owing to an accident having befallen her screw. The Kepler is a favourite steamer and a well known trader with this port.

The steamer Panama has not yet arrived in Montevideo; it is said that she did not leave England until the 16th June.

Sr. Bustamante, the editor of the 'Tribuna' of Montevideo has returned from Rio. We regret this, as whilst he was there we always had the very best and latest advices.

The 'Nacion Argentina' publishes the following declaration of a Paraguayan deserter: "Valentin Garay, a native of Asuncion, declares as follows.—'I was only a month at Curupaiti: the garrison there comprises 1,000 infantry and gunners, and 200 well-mounted cavalry. The batteries count 25 guns, of which three are 80-pounders, six 24-pounders, and the rest of small calibre. At the stockade thrown across the river there are three very large infernal-machines, under a special guard, which were constructed by two fair-complexioned foreigners. The torpedoes which are daily sent down the river are constructed the night previous: they call them 'bombas,' and their explosion is hailed with great enthusiasm by the garrison at Curupaiti. President Lopez, Mune Lynch, Minister Berges, Colonel Wisner (Hungarian) and two other foreigners are at the headquarters of Paso Brit, between Curupaiti and the encampment. Lopez has recently brought a reinforcement of 6,000 slaves from the Yerbales: they are fine, hardy, young men, some of them white. He has also armed the Payaguá Indians who inhabit the coast of the river. The war arsenals are kept working away as usual. Eight Paraguayan war-steamers are stationed at intervals above Humaytá. Some of the Paraguayans think Lopez must eventually be beaten, but all will fight for him to the last. The army is very short of food and clothing. The losses in the [illegible]th were very severe: [illegible] of Asuncion, light infantry, [illegible] into action 900 strong and came out 80. I am aware that Lopez has sent his prisoners to different places, but I cannot say how they are treated: the only one I have seen was Amaro Barboso, Brazilian Consul at Asuncion, who is detained at Humaytá in irons: the prisoners sent inland are Argentines and Brazilians.'"

The Provincial Government has subscribed $5,000 a month towards carrying on the works of the new church at Ranchos.

Mr. Bagley's suit against the manufacturers of spurious Hesperidina was to have come off on Thursday: we shall publish the sentence when recorded.

The Machado controversy continues, and Col. Alvaro Barros publishes an original correspondence between that commander and the Indians.

We learn that the prospectus and statutes of Capt. Harrison's River Plate Steam Navigation Co. have arrived here, and that the board of directors counts Mr. Brassey, junr., Mr. Darbyshire of Liverpool, and other men of standing.

Senator Rojo proposed on Friday a concession in favour of Messrs. Thos. Graves & Co. for laying down electric wires through the Republic: the name of the firm is new to us.

The Horse-show yesterday on Paseo Julio was the event of the day. Thousands of horses, mostly poor-looking brutes, were assembled about noon near the Capitania, and drew a large crowd of idlers, who passed very unseasonable jokes upon the horses, their owners, and the campaign in Paraguay. Those parties who failed to present substitutes for their horses were left afoot, but most people had taken the precaution.

We understand there was a grand ball at St. Vincent's on June 20th: the Oneida coming out and Douro going home met, and were lashed together and the merriment kept up till daybreak.

The Triton brought Mr. Lettsom a collection of curiosities from Patagonia; we believe he intends to have an exhibition at Montevideo.

Mr. H. F. Varela, Oriental Chargé d'affaires, returned from Montevideo yesterday. His mission had some reference to collecting horses for the war, but it seems the Government declines to imitate the step taken in B. Ayres.

Mr. Savory, president of the River Plate steam-navigation Co., arrived yesterday: he is principal owner of the Oriental.

The passengers and cargo of the Rio Paraná will be received on board the Rio de la Plata, the agents of this steamer having acted with the greatest liberality.

The Oriental, which leaves this evening, takes a supplementary mail for the French packet.

PETO AND BETTS.

A large and most satisfactory meeting was held this morning of the creditors of Messrs. Peto and Betts. Mr. Jackson, M. P., was in the chair, and the following statement was submitted by Mr. Coleman, the accountant, showing liabilities for £438,375, and assets (which it was mentioned had been most carefully calculated at existing values, and with a desire to avoid all possibility of an over-estimate) of £1,562,064. The creditors were assured that there was every prospect of a rapid realization, since it was not proposed to delay the liquidation for the sake of waiting for full prices, and that the payment of every claim with interest at an early date might be considered certain. All the contracts in which the firm are engaged in England are held conjointly with other parties, Messrs. Kelk, Messrs. Lucas, and Messrs. Waring, who have undertaken their completion, while those in foreign countries are either secured or involve only small amounts. Resolutions were, therefore, unanimously passed for the firm to continue their business under letter of licence, and with Mr. Richard Fothergill, of the Abardare Ironworks, Mr. Peter Bolt, and Mr. Thomas Fenn, of the Stock-Exchange, as inspectors. Mr. Alderman Rose then moved a vote of sympathy and confidence in the firm, who, by their long and honorable course, have contributed to the engineering fame of England in all parts of the world, which being seconded by Mr. G. G. Glyn, was adopted with a warmth of feeling such as has rarely been witnessed. Sir Morton Peto, in reply, referred to the fact that on the first announcement of their difficulties they had the offer from personal friends of assistance exceeding half a million sterling:—

THE AGRA BANK.

Before the present panic began this bank enjoyed the reputation of being one of the most successful of the great London Banking houses. Notwithstanding its purely Indian name, it rose gradually in importance from the time of its commencing operations in London, in 1857, until it attained its greatest position by a union with the old house of Masterman, becoming thenceforth recognised as a London bank entitled to all the privileges of the Clearing-house. It would be difficult to imagine a combination having more of the elements of stability and success. Masterman's Bank had existed in one form or another for about a century, and had consequently grown with the rising tide of City commercial prosperity. The Agra was established in Agra in 1833, and was one of the oldest class of limited liability banks constituted by charter. Its business was partly commercial and partly what may be termed professional, receiving the deposits and doing the banking for the civil and military services in India, and retired officers who resided in this country.

BANKS AND PANICS.

Buenos Ayres, June 13, 1866.

"Al que caiga el sayo que se lo ponga."

In this age of runs on banks, post ponements of specie-payments, committees to Mr. Gladstone calling upon him to suspend the suspension of the Bank Charter Act and deposit all the Bank of England bullion in the Argentine Consulate, for the benefit of Sam Slick and other illiterati, the following paragraph from the money market and city intelligence of the 'Times,' of 8th of June, may be interesting to some of your readers, to whom I would recommend Captain Cuttle's simple plan of "when found make a note of:"—"A representation is understood to be about to be addressed to the Stock Exchange Committee to-morrow, signed by various brokers and dealers, on the necessity of steps being taken to check the operations of the gang who have lately been engaged in attacking the various banks, &c., &c.," up to "the remedy may curtail a considerable amount of vicious business, &c."

CASUAL OBSERVER.

THE FENIANS AT LOGGERHEADS.

At Washington General Sweeney is reported to have pronounced Stephens to be a British spy. The Manhattan and several Fenian circles of Philadelphia have declared in favour of the Senate. All the Washington circles have decided to support Stephens. The Senate faction entirely ignore his authority, and there is no probably of a reconciliation.

A statement of Fenian Finance has been put forward in Philadelphia, by the Circles there, which shows that at the beginning of 1866 O'Mahoney had 210,000 dols.; of this 177,000 dols. was spent by 'organizers,' or, as the Philadelphia Fenians say, 'squandered.' 26,000 dols. were spent in the Eastport expedition, and 7,000 dols. for expenses at Union-square, New York. This statement shows that now there is less than 500 dols. in the Fenian Treasury, and this has added to the new dissensions in the Fenian

Paper price of ounces,	$109½

First price of patacons,	25 75

Cash sales, 54,068

Specie receded 15 cents to-day, although in the morning it was thought that gold would go up; the heavy arrivals, however, for the Government, and also for the Maua Bank, shook the market, and specie closed weak with a downward tendency. The news from Europe caused a marked effect on the Bolsa to-day: all believe that ere this war has been declared in Europe, and amongst the ship captains of continental flags there is a sort of panic. The advices per Panamá are anxiously looked for: she is expected hourly in Montevideo. The failure of The Agra Bank in Manchester was greatly spoken of, as it was connected with several River Plate houses: it is not thought that any house here will suffer by the failure, as the bills drawn on the bank were drawn against credits. The commercial advices are not unfavorable. Very heavy wool-sales have been held in Havre, and prices sustained.

The time sales of specie were as follows.

For Tuesday,	6,000	at 25 75
Saturday,	126,000	25 65
July 31	111,000	25 75
Aug. 31	9,020	25 95
Do.	15,500	26 85

Owing to the nature of the advices received per packet, it is pretty generally believed that gold will be held up and possibly exported, but the scarcity of paper money defeats every effort on the part of the brokers to bull the market, and some of the best city signatures were done to-day at-1½.

National Bonds suffered a slight decline to-day. The sales were as follows:

1,200 for	cash	39½
5,000	July 31	39½
20,000	cash	39½
3,000	July 14	39½
3,000	cash	39½

At which price they closed weak, a native broker having offered 25,000 at last rate, but there were no buyers.

The steamer Kepler, which met with an accident to her screw, went into dry dock at Rio, where in six days she was completely repaired: she was to have left Rio for Montevideo on the 11th July. These repairs, which would take about a month here, were done in six days by means of a dry-dock in Rio.

The accident which befel the steamer Rio Paraná when entering port this morning was greatly talked of: all agree that the Captain of the Port should be obliged to pay the cost of repairs. The wreck of the Pampero lies in the most exposed part of the inner roads, and if it is not removed we may expect other accidents similar to that which befel the Rio Paraná this morning.

The Liverpool steamer Halley leaves this evening. She will remain in Montevideo two or three days.

The steamer Uruguay from Liverpool is expected here on the 17th.

Our advices from Montevideo are to the 12th. Gold is bought up eagerly by the brokers at 2½ per cent. premium, and most of the banks carry their animosity to the Maua Bank to such an extent that they refuse to take its notes in exchange. The largest holder of specie is Maua. Business very dull. The American ship La Plata sailed on Wednesday for New York.

In the plazas here nothing to record, save 500 ar. lambs wool at 48.

The following failures have occurred in England:—

The Agra and Masterman's Bank, London, seven millions.

The Consolidated Bank, do.

S. J. Framjee and Co', do.

J. and D. Beholiel, do.

Enthoven and Sons, £300,000

Kynaston, Sutherland, and Co., do.

Boult, English, and Brandon, Liverpool.

Giannocopulo and Cochilani, do.

McCulloch and Co., do.

Duff Cadell and Co., do.

Holderness and Chilton, ship-builders, do.

Robinson, Corryton, and Co., Manchester.

Besides the above, a private banking-house at Falmouth, a leading cotton-broker at Liverpool, and sundry others.

Respecting the London Financial Association, concerning which there is much talk, we extract the following from the 'Times':—

"At a meeting to-day of some of the principal shareholders of the London Financial Association, representing with the directors over 4,000 shares in the company; who were invited to confer with the directors and receive from them a statement of the position of the Association, the following resolutions were unanimously come to:—

"'That in the opinion of this meeting the explanations given by the directors as to the position of the Association are most satisfactory, but, in order to meet disappointments arising out of the financial crisis, it will be necessary to obtain a temporary advance.'

"'That shareholders be requested to contribute towards a loan in the proportion of £5 per share or more, on which the Association will allow interest after the rate of 10 per cent. per annum.'

"All the parties present subscribed, and, this circumstance having become known, a considerable improvement occurred after regular hours in the price of the shares."

Mr. Edward Oltman, Dentist, begs to remind the suffering public of Buenos Ayres that at his Establishment, 139 Cangallo, they will meet instantaneous and effectual relief. Those who have lost their teeth can be supplied with the most perfect imitations set in gold, and to all intents and purposes the same as those supplied by nature. Teeth stuffed, cleaned, and filled without pain.

Mr. E. O. still continues to draw teeth in that painless manner which has rendered him such a favorite in the New World. Charges moderate.

MR. CHRISTIE'S CIRCULAR.

Gentlemen,

Enclosed I beg to hand copy of a circular I have issued in Spanish to the general commerce of this city.

Allow me respectfully to solicit your kind assistance in forming such an establishment; feeling assured that there is but little necessity to explain to foreign merchants the benefits to be desired therefrom, especially as the chief end is the obliging of straightforward accounts, in balance sheets, sent in by insolvent traders; either to their creditors, or to the Tribunals, by checking same with their books; admitting of a thorough overhauling of said books, with the view of arriving at a knowledge of their real and true state of affairs; and the dividends likely to accrue. Also the advantage of a practised examiner.

I trust you will honour me with your commands feeling assured that I shall be able to please you, besides I flatter myself that after a trial my straightforwardness and efforts to carry out your wishes will merit a continuation of your support.

I am, gentlemen,
Your very obedt. servt.,
JAMES CHRISTIE.

A los Señores comerciantes de esta plaza.

Tengo el honor de participar á vdes. que con el intento de esperimentar la eficacia en esta culta capital de una contaduria me dirijí á esta.—Seguro tanto en su necesidad, cuanto en su utilidad; al comercio en general; fecha ha admitido, en todas las ciudades centrales de comercio, sean en Europa, sean en los Estados Unidos; y últimamente acojido con tanto ahinco y provecho en la capital del Imperio del Brazil, por el comercio de aquel corte, oiresco mis humildes servicios (aun parcos) para introducir esta mejora en la benemérita ciudad de Buenos Ayres. Las bases principales de un establecimiento de esta clase son de—Estender y examinar cuidadosamente balances, tomar cuenta del examen de los libros de casas en estado fortuito y formar balancetes del estado actual, dirijir la liquidacion hasta su completa solucion de cualquiera casa en mal estado, en quiebra ó en liquidacion; y de hacer todo cuanto preciso sea mercantilmente á tal respecto, calcular averias á la gruesa, corregir cautelosamente libros errados, etc. Grande esperiencia adquirida durante largos años de práctica, me anima en la esperanza de su favorable recibimiento, los trabajos confiados á mi cuidado pueden ser estendidos en inglés, francés, portuguez, italiano ó español pues su criado los entiende—Julio 6 de 1866—Calle 25 de Mayo No. 226

Perfect Security from Burglars or Fire,

Can only be obtained by having George Price's treble and quadruple Patent Prize Medal Safes, fitted with his Patent Case hardened, drill and screw proof doors and his "ne plus ultra" Gunpowder Proof Locks which have successfully defied the efforts of the most expert London and Manchester "Cracksmen."

"Case hardening" as applied to these Safes renders the metal many times harder than the hardest steel ever used, thereby destroying the cutting edge and rendering utterly unoperative every description of burglars tools and implements however powerful or ingeniously constructed.

The above Safes can be seen and price lists obtained by applying to REMATES.

Por BENJAMIN NAZAR & CO.

De 30 Carneros Negretti, sangre pura, de la Gran Cabaña de Lenschow, del Sr. Baron de Maltzanhn, venidos por el buque Catharine, Capitan Bakker, á la consignacion de los Señores Luders y Compañia.

En su casa Calle de la Victoria No. 254.

El Jueves 19 de Julio á las 11 en punto de la mañana se rematarán á la mas alta postura y dinero de contado los especiales Carneros que desde hoy estan en exibicion en nuestra casa de remate.

30 Carneros cria de Negretti de Lenschow, de lindo tipo, gran cantidad de lana fina y de superior caracter, lo que hace que estos animales sean de gran produccion y pronto refinamiento en las tropillas que se formen con carneros de la Cabaña del Sr. Baron de Maltzahnz, conocida ya en esta por algunos que se han introducido para venderse en remate.

En el informe del Director agricola de Prussia Sr. Don A Kriebel concerniente á las principales ovejerias de Pomerania, Mecklemburgo, Sajonia y Bohemia, publicado en los tres principales periodicos de esta ciudad, en uno de sus parrafos dice con respecto á la ovejeria de Lenechow, perteneciente al Baron de Maltzanhn, que segun su opinion es la la corona y la cima de Negretti, mas elevada, y distinguida. El visitador queda completamente sorprendido de la maestria con la que se ha logrado hasta la mayor perfeccion, la uniformidad y armonia mas raras en la construccion sumamente elegante y fuerte de los cuerpos, y el caractar claro y decisivo de la lana para la fabricacion de paño. En esta ovejeria, todo es verdad y genuino, en todo reconoce la tendencia practica á producir una lana fuerte, solida y fina para un ramo determinado de fabricacion en la totalidad de su ganado lanar, prueba desde luego al ojo admirador de la ciencia y la practica unidas han acabado el problema hasta la mayor perfeccion. De su parte felicita á los criadores de Negretti, que obtengan animales de cria de esta ovejeria sobresaliente, pues tiene sus difficultades, ya por que su fama bien merecida ha ocasionado un pedido tan fuerte, que debe darse el encargo con un año de anticipacion p ra lograr animales muy jovenes. Por tanto segun su opinion ofrece la ovejeria de Lenschow, actualmente lo mas hermoso, elevado y sólido de la cria moderna de ovejas en Mecklemburgo y el Baron de Maltzanhn es sin duda el principal y mas eminente criador de Negretti.

Antes de ahora hemos publicado una serie de articulos demostrando las ventajas de estos animales nacidos en el pais sobre los que se importan del estrangero, y recomendando la asidua cantracion y los grandes costos que varios otros hacendados han hecho para obtener la produccion de padres Negrettis bajo iguales é identicas condiciones que en Alemania.

The Bienhechora offers three various modes of Insurance to its subscribers: 1st, with the loss of capital by the death of the Insured party; 2nd, without loss of capital in said event; 3rd, with mere compound interest.

In the first form the Insured party has a right to:

1 To compound interest on the bonds purchased by the capitals received by the Company.
2. To a propertionate share of the capitals and interest of those who die in their respective sections.
3. To a proportionate share of the Capitals and Interests of forfeited subscriptions.
4. To a proportion of gains resulting from increased value of the National Bonds acquired by the inversion of funds.

In the second form the Insured claims
1. Compound Interest on the National Bonds purchased by the Association,
2. A proportionate share of the Interest due on the Capitals of those who die in the respective sections, which capitals are returned to the subscribers
3. A proportion of the interest due on forfeited shares.
4. A proportionate share of the profits arising from the increased value of the National Bonds, acquired by inversion of funds.

Finally, in the third form, gives a right to the corresponding interest produced by the Bonds purchased with their subscriptions, and the successive reinvestment of such interest, effected quarterly, when the coupons are paid up by the public treasury.
